WELCOME TO FIRST GRADE - SUMMER OPTIONAL READING LIST

Dear Parents,

We hope that reading aloud has become part of your busy schedule. Please continue to enjoy this vital activity during the summer. This is a good time to explore your child's individual interests and to introduce some of your own childhood favorites.

The following suggestions are from Lorraine Bentley, former children's librarian at Wheaton Public Library, past president of the Catholic Library Association of the Archdiocese of Washington, and lecturer in children's literature at Trinity College.

FOR PARENTS

Fox	READING MAGIC: Why Reading Aloud to Our Children Will Change Their Lives Forever
Hearne	CHOOSING BOOKS FOR CHILDREN
Lewis and Mayes	VALERIE AND WALTER'S BEST BOOKS FOR CHILDREN – A lively, opinionated guide. (Amazon)
Trelease	READ-ALOUD HANDBOOK
Keaton	IMAGINING FAITH with KIDS (Pauline Books and Media)

Getting your children and books together – a few ideas:

1. Read Yourself! Let your children see you read.
2. Read what your children are reading.
3. Turn off the TV! Set aside time for each family member to read and enjoy.
4. Read aloud as a family. Your children's librarian at your local library branch will be happy to help you select books your entire family will enjoy.
5. Talk about the books you are reading.
6. Visit your local public library branch regularly. Help your children select books; ask the librarian for help when you need it. Take advantage of the programs offered.
7. Show that books are special; give them as gifts.
8. Relate books to family activities and events--a vacation trip, a new pet, visiting museums, etc. Mary Quattlebaum has written Underground Train about a trip on Metro's Red Line.

REMEMBER: The public library offers many services, and they are free of charge!

Slate, Joseph	What Star Is This? ; Who Is Coming to Our House?
Spier, Peter	The Book of Jonah; Noah's Ark
Winthrop, Elizabeth	A Child is Born: the Christmas Story

There are many other fine books on religious subjects; check the Dewey Decimal Number 200 shelves at the library. Just be certain to skim the books yourself first. Some illustrations are quite intense for young children. See Elizabeth Winthrop's He is Risen and judge what your child can handle.

POEMS, RHYMES, AND SONGS

Many children today do not seem to know the basic nursery, jump rope, and counting-out rhymes that generations of us grew up on. Submitted for your approval:

Cole, Joanna	Give a Dog a Bone
Delacre, Lulu	Arroz con Leche: Popular Songs and Rhymes from Latin America; Arrorro mi Nino=Latino Lullabies and Gentle Games

These are merely a short sampling of the treasures awaiting you at our local public libraries. The librarians at your branch may suggest other books by the authors listed or books I have not included- there isn't room for everything in this book list! Every library in the Montgomery County public system cannot own a copy of every book. Here's a chance to introduce your child to the wonders of interlibrary loan.

Don't forget Dewey Decimal Number 398.2 for fairy and folk tales. The desk in the children's room has a list of all the books that have won the Caldecott Medal for outstanding illustrations and another list of suggested books for kindergarten and grade one.

Barnes and Noble in Rockville and Gaithersburg, and Politics and Prose in Washington, D.C. frequently host children's authors and illustrators and have other interesting activities.

Children enjoy getting mail. Consider a subscription to a magazine (Highlights for Children; and from the Cricket magazine group- Ladybug or Spider) as a birthday, or end of year school gift. This type of reading prepares children for the type of reading most people do as adults.

HAVE A WONDERFUL SUMMER!
